There may be circumstances where the school is required either by law or in the best interests of our students or staff to pass information onto external authorities, for example local authorities, Ofsted, or the department of health. The exemption from disclosure does not apply if the information can be edited so that the person's name or identifying details are removed

- in the form of a reference given to another school or any other place of education and training, the child's potential employer, or any national body concerned with student admissions.

Data Security:

In order to assure the protection of all data being processed and inform decisions on processing activities, we shall undertake an assessment of the associated risks of proposed processing and equally the impact on an individual's privacy in holding data related to them.

Security of data shall be achieved through the implementation of proportionate physical and technical measures. Nominated staff shall be responsible for the effectiveness of the controls implemented and reporting of their performance.

Data Controller: Mrs Louise Knipe

No charge will be applied to process the request.

Personal data about pupils will not be disclosed to third parties without the consent of the child's parent or carer, unless it is obliged by law or in the best interest of the child. Data may be disclosed to the following third parties without consent:

- Other schools

If a pupil transfers from Longford CE Primary School to another school, their academic records and other data that relates to their health and welfare will be forwarded onto the new school. This will support a smooth transition from one school to the next and ensure that the child is provided for as is necessary. It will aid continuation which should ensure that there is minimal impact on the child's academic progress as a result of the move.

Examination authorities

This may be for registration purposes, to allow the pupils at our school to sit examinations set by external exam bodies.

- Health authorities

As obliged under health legislation, the school may pass on information regarding the health of children in the school to monitor and avoid the spread of contagious diseases in the interest of public health.

- Police and courts

If a situation arises where a criminal investigation is being carried out we may have to forward information on to the police to aid their investigation. We will pass information onto courts as and when it is ordered.

- Social workers and support agencies

In order to protect or maintain the welfare of our pupils, and in cases of child abuse, it may be necessary to pass personal data on to social workers or support agencies.

- Educational division

Schools may be required to pass data on in order to help the government to monitor the national educational system and enforce laws relating to education.

- Right to be Forgotten:

Where any personal data is no longer required for its original purpose, an individual can demand that the processing is stopped and all their personal data is erased by the school including any data held by contracted processors.

Photographs and Video:

Images of staff and pupils may be captured at appropriate times and as part of educational activities for use in school only. Unless prior consent from parents/pupils/staff has been given, the school shall not utilise such images for publication or communication to external sources. It is the school's policy that external parties (including parents) may not capture images of staff or pupils during such activities without prior consent and should not then share these images on any form of social media (including but not limited to: Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, Snap Chat, WhatsApp, LinkedIn etc). We also have CCTV on site and recordings are kept for 7 days.

Location of information and data:

Hard copy data, records, and personal information are stored out of sight and in a locked cupboard. The only exception to this is medical information that may require immediate access during the school day. Sensitive or personal information and data should not be removed from the school site, however the school acknowledges that some staff may need to transport data between the school and their home in order to access it for work in the evenings and at weekends. This may also apply in cases where staff have offsite meetings, or are on school visits with pupils.

The following guidelines are in place for staff in order to reduce the risk of personal data being compromised:

- Paper copies of data or personal information should not be taken off the school site. If these are misplaced they are easily accessed. If there is no way to avoid taking a paper copy of data off the school site, the information should not be on view in public places, or left unattended under any circumstances.
- Unwanted paper copies of data, sensitive information or pupil files should be shredded. This also applies to handwritten notes if the notes reference any other staff member or pupil by name.
- Care must be taken to ensure that printouts of any personal or sensitive information are not left in printer trays or photocopiers.
- If information is being viewed on a PC, staff must ensure that the window and documents are properly shut down before leaving the computer unattended. Sensitive information should not be viewed on public computers.
- If it is necessary to transport data away from the school, it should be downloaded onto a USB stick. The data should not be transferred from this stick onto any home or public computers. Work should be edited from the USB, and saved onto the USB only.
- USB sticks that staff use must be password protected. These guidelines are clearly communicated to all school staff, and any person who is found to be intentionally breaching this conduct will be disciplined in line with the seriousness of their misconduct.

Data Disposal:

The school recognises that the secure disposal of redundant data is an integral element to compliance with legal requirements and an area of increased risk.

All data shall be destroyed or eradicated to agreed levels meeting recognised national standards, with confirmation at completion of the disposal process. Disposal of IT assets holding data shall be in compliance with ICO guidance:

https://ico.org.uk/media/fororganisations/documents/1570/it_asset_disposal_for_organisations.pdf

The school has identified a qualified source for disposal of IT assets and collections.

Procedure in the event of a data breach

The Data Controller (Louise Knipe) is told of breach (or has committed a breach) and this is recorded. If this is deemed to be serious, the Data Controller MUST inform the Data Protection Officer (Wes Thorpe). The Data Controller must inform the people whom the breach affects immediately, or as soon as possible after the breach. (eg: if a parents receives another child's report, the parent of that child must be told this has happened, or if salary details of one member of staff went to another, that member of staff must be told this has happened.) The DPO must then investigate the incident and have all the relevant facts and time line of events. The DPO and the data controller may make recommendations for changes in procedure so that this type of breach does not occur again. Any documents that have been sent to the wrong person must be recalled.

The DPO then has 72 hours in which to report the breach to the ICO (if deemed serious). There is an online form for this on the ICO website. The ICO will send a holding email to the DPO as a response with a case number. This should be retained for possible future use.

If required, the data controller and the DPO will later meet with the people affected by the breach to inform them what measures have been put in place to prevent this from occurring again and to apologise for any distress this has caused.
